GARNER ANXIOUS 2 Ousted Jurors Win New ON NEUTRALITY Huge Profits For 'Win Or Lose' JUDGE ORDERED

RESTRICTION IN DEBATE Signature On Lease Enabled Noe's Firm To Cash In On 'Deal'

Texan, Given Lease 313 On Valuable Oil Lands, Then Assigned Transfer Of 1-32 To Candidate's Corporation While Noe Was Governor

This is the story of State Mineral Lease 343. It was awarded by Governor James A. Noe, on March 7. 1936, to D. J. Simmons, a business associate in other oil ventures, for $500 cash and other consideration.

ON THE SAME DAY part of it was transferred to the Win or Lose Oil corporation, a company owned and controlled by Governor Noe, for $1 cash "and other good and valuable consideration known to the parties."

The official signature of James A. Noe as governor of Louisiana appear at the bottom of both the lease to D. J. Simmons and the transfer by Simmons of a royalty interest of 1-32 of the lease to the Win or Lose corporation. To put it more plainly, NOE, AS GOVERNOR,

SIGNED THE LEASE TO SIMMONS: AND NOE, AS GOVERNOR, APPROVED THE TRANSFER OF PART OF THE LEASE BY SIMMONS TO NOE'S COMPANY. As Governor Noe he assigned a valuable mineral lease

as Stockholder Noe he got back part of it. The two transactions were only hours, perhaps moments, apart. Lease 343 conferred exclusive drilling privileges in river, bayon and lake beds in large areas in Caddo and Bossier parishes. With a single exception (Bayou Bodcau) it covered all water bottoms owned by the state in five townships. Production of oil or gas in this territory would have opened up vast possibilities. The company of Governor Noe would, of course, have shared in them.

Mr. Noe had been in the executive chair a little over a month when the Simmons lease was signed. His presence there was due to a combination of unexpected events.

The first president pro tem of the state senate during the administration of Governor Oscar K. Allen was W. H. Peterman, of Rapides. Senator Peterman, however, became disaffected to the administration and was replaced with Senator Thos. C. Wingate, of Vernon. Long illness forced Mr. Wingate to resign as presiding officer of the senate, and Senator Noe was given his place. He was a leader of the administration forces in the senate throughout the term of Governor Allen.

When Lieutenant Governor J. B. Fournet resigned to take his seat on the supreme bench of the state, Mr. Noe automatically succeeded him in that office. Governor Allen died suddenly on January 29, 1936, shortly after he had been nominated for the office of United States Senator in succession to the late Huey P. Long. His constitutional successor in the governor's office was Lieutenant Governor James A.

Governor Noe served until Richard W. Leche was inaugurated in May, 1936. It was during his brief term of office as chief executive that he signed Mineral Lease 343.

D. J. Simmons, the lessee, was one of Governor Noe's associates in the operation of three-fifths of Lease 309, the history of which was unfolded in this newspaper on Sunday last. He was not, as far as is known, a stockholder in the Win or Lose Corporation. But, he was one of the transferees to whom Noe had assigned thirty of the fifty locations he had acquired from the state and in which he retained a work-Simmons was a Fort Worth, Texas, man whom Noe is said to have brought to Louisiana. He located first in Shreveport, and then in New Orleans. Reliable report says it was Simmons who worked up the deal by which Senator Noe was able to transfer to Farrell, Rhoades and Simmons, of Tarrant county, Texas, sixteen days after he had acquired Lease 309, thirty of the fifty locations secured in that inatrument. Apparently, not being able to drill the thirty wells himself, Lessee Noe arranged to have Farrell finance

It would be interesting to learn the nature of the "other good and valuable consideration known to the parties" mentioned in the transfer of an override of 1-32 by Simmons to the Win or Lose Corporation. The record does not disclose it.

The territory covered by Mineral Lease 343 is a vast area in Caddo and Bossier. It embraces all the water bottoms owned by the state in the Elm Grove field, and part of the

Lease 343 Still Alive

D. J. Simmons, who obtained a state mineral lease of water bottoms in Caddo and Bossier parishes from Governor James A. Noe, on March 7. 1936, and immediately transferred 1-32 of his royalties to Mr. Noe's Win or Lose corporation, was evidently not as fortunate in the disposition of his holdings as Mr. Noe was with Mineral Lease 309 in 1934 and 1935, Mr Simmons got his lease for $500 (something like one cent per acre) and parted with the 1-32 royalty to the Win or Lose for $1 and "other good and valuable consideration known to the parties."

Just as Mr. Noe was permitted to peddle his lease, so was Mr. Simmons permitted to peddle his. But the former Fort Worth oil man evidently didn't have any luck. He kept his lease alive by paying $250 per year rentals under the terms of his contract with the state. To ascertain the status of the lease, the register of the state land office was wired for the information, and the following reply was Baton Rouge, La., Oct. 19, 1939. Answering wire. Lease 343 kept in force by payment rentals. Now raid to March 7, 1910,

LONDON, Oct. 21.-(P)-British lighting planes which raced today to answer the call of a ship convoy being attacked from the air were reported tonight to have defeated the German attacking squadron.

Official accounts of the air battle over the North sea said three of the twelve German attackers were shot down and a fourth forced to alight at sea by fire from the planes and escort vessels of the convoy. The type of ships being convoyed and their destination was not given, but it was stated none was damaged.

Shortly after the encounter advices from a correspondent with the royal air force in France said that if German raids on British naval anchorages in Scotland continued, British planes might be ordered to attack military objectives in Germany. In London Britain's war secretary,

Substitute 'Scat' Back Races 56 Yards To Tally First Touchdown

By Kenneth Gregory

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., Oct. 21.-(P)-The golden-shirted Volunteers of Tennessee, displaying the precision and power of a great football machine, overwhelmed Alabama's Crimson Tide 21 to 0 today before a crowd of close to 40,000.

It was Tennessee's 17th consecutive gridiron triumph. Few were accomplished with such an exhibition of power and speed as that which blasted a robust Alabama team that had removed Fordham from the national

A great share of the glory was handed to a mite of a substitute half-back, sophomore Johnny Butler, who Rhode Island 23; Massachusetts broke up a duel of punts to race 56 yards for the first touchdown.

That great second quarter run of the 160-pound "scat" back broke the ice and then the Volunteers, defend-Slippery Rock (Pa.) Teachers 13; ing champions of Southeastern conference, roared on to a pair of touchdowns in the final period.

Tennessee made no sustained drives for its scores. After Butler's sensational run on which he dodged and sidestepped practically the entire Alabama team, halfback Bob Foxx took the ball on a reverse to score from the Alabama 11 and substitute Buist Warren ran for the third on an offtackle sneak from the Tide's 12. Alabama managed but one lukewarm scoring threat just after the second period opened. A short punt by Tennessee's field general, George "Bad News" Cafego gave Alabama the ball at the Volunteer's 43. A 15 yard penalty and runs by halfback Paul Spencer carried to the 28.

North Carelina 14, Tulane 14 (tie) | called Hayward (Sandy) Sanford into Mississippi State 37, Southwestern the frax for an attempt at his field goal specialty. With the ball resting on the 37, Sanford's effort fell far short of the unrights. The victory, featured by the great

Jim (Sweet) Lalanne, North Carolina quarterback, whose two touchdown passes to End Severin in the final quarter of the game with Tulane at New Orleans yesterday, enabled the Tarheels to tie the favored Greenies, 14-14. Ruston is considered the strongest team Neville will have to face in Class A sectional warfare and there is a traditional rivalry between the two schools that dates back many years. Ruston has played every team that has fought under the Neville banner, and was an arch rival of old Monroe City High school and the former combined high school teams of Monroe. In view of the fact that the Bengals will be facing a traditional foe, Homecoming day will be celebrated in connection with the battle. Neville alumni will be urged to turn out en masse, and without a doubt the game will draw the biggest crowd that has witnessed a Neville battle here this year.

Neville will be battling to remain a title contender, and Ruston, already eliminated, will be out to trim the Tigers just for the love of beating a Monroe team.

The Tigers have three conference triumphs already stored away, having trounced Mangham, Farmerville and Winnsboro in order. If the Bengals get past Ruston they will have only the Rayville Hornets in their path toward the title games. The Tigers feel they will have no trouble with Rayville if they can subdue the Bearcats. The Bearcats scored their first conference win the past week when they stopped Winnfield's Tigers, 19 to 0. Their only other conference game was with Homer's Pelicans. The Pels, who lopped off the highly touted Byrd Yellow Jackets of Shreveport, 13 to 6, the past week, beat the Bearcats only three touchdowns, 18 to 0. Top-ranking teams in the Class A race at the present are Minden and Neville with three wins each, and Homer and Bossier City with two conference triumphs each.

Coach Percy Brown last night announced he expected to have his Neville aggregation in top form for the Bearcat invasion. The squad was studded with cripples the past week, but most of them will be taking rough work again by Tuesday.

With clearer blocking and R. C. "Red" Rivers running like he did against the Winnsboro Wildcats the past Thursday, Neville stands a chance to down the Lincoln parish invaders. It was the Ruston aggregation that knocked Neville out of the running

WILDCATS PASS TO DEFEAT BULLDOGS

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Oct. 21.-(AP)-A favored University of Kentucky football team passed its way to a 13 to 6 win today over the University of Georgia.

Neither team was able to make much headway through the line and all of the scoring, which was confined to the final period, was through the air. A stout Georgia line stopped three Kentucky drives within their two yard line,

The first Kentucky score came after Dave Zoeller, who found himself boxed in on an attempted end run flipped a short pass to "Juney" Jones who dashed 60 yards through a bewildered Georgia team.

Later Georgia's Allen passed to Captain Vassa Cate 36 yards. Cate was downed on the three and Fordham bucked it over.

Fighting back, Zoeller passed to Hardin who raced to the Georgia 17. A line play failed and Zoeller again flipped a pass to Hardin on the goal

QUAKER CAPTAIN LEADS TO WIN OVER CRIMSON

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Oct. 21.-(AP)-The sturdy Pennsylvania Quakers tempered by two previous hard struggles, were inspired into gaining a 22-7 victory over Harvard's previously untested football forces today by Harlan Gustasson, their passsnatching captain.

The Quakers actualy put the game on ice in the third period when Jin Chandler rushed into the backfield and place-kicked a 17-yard field goal that gave Penn a 9-7 lead.

Montana Guests Are Entertained

Mr. and Mrs. W. N. Reynolds took America advantage of the beautiful autumnal nights and the brilliant harvest moon folk somes in varying moods. Sacred and arranged an al fresco supper party in the rear gardens of their home in West Monroe. Guests of honor on this occasion were Mr. and Mrs. W. E. O'Dell of Mostana.

A Halloween motif was employed the supper service and in the colorful appointments. A bright yellow oumpkin hollowed out and overflowing with yellow daisies and luscious fruit, formed a decorative table decor. Platters of barbecued steaks and ribs, pots of Boston baked beans, salads and all the other delicious accompaniments were passed to the guests.

The guests from Montana, unfamiliar with southern barbecues, were 'delighted with this particular mode of entertainment. Other guests enjoying the courtesies were Mr. and Mrs. R. G. > The story deals with a gang of five, arrested and sent to federal penitentiaries. One, a first offender, is sent to Chillicothe for reform and to learn a trade. The gang leader, proving incorrigible, goes to Alcatraz from which there is no reprieve or escape. A third, mentally defective, is sent to the government's correctional institute at Springfield, Mo. The fourth member remains at Atlanta and gradually reforms. The fifth member, a young woman, is sent to the reformatory at Elderson, W. Va., where she, too, is rehabilitated, taught a trade and paroled, to join the first offender with whom she has been permitted to correspond.

Made with federal government cooperation, the film traces the life of the boy and girl, misguided at first, then straightened out as they are taught trades and the secret of happiness through the work of the federal prison system. It shows life in these prisons and the human rather than inhuman treatment under which the convicts are governed. For the first time in screen history, Alcatraz is actually pictured by the motion picture camera. The film presents such unique prison sights as gun detectors, gun galleries, cell-blocks and other details of Alcatraz and the other prisons, never before photographed. Rita Johnson and Tom Neal, teamed for the first time, turn in their best performances to date as the misguided couple who ultimately find happiness. Bernard Nedell is forceful as the desperado gang leader, Reno Madigan. Others who do memorable work are dreamed on. Things had gone from Edward Gargan and John Gallaudet, also members of the gang. Also in the cast are Addison Richards, Frank M. Thomas, George Tobias, Ann Shoemaker and Charles Lane.

Directed in bold, staccato style by Jacques Tourneur, the film pictures an attempted escape, the classification of prisoners, a kangaroo court, the fight between a blackmailing gangster and a reformed crook, and other highlighted episodes. Jack Chertok, producing, has made "They All Come Out" both an accurate case history and compelling entertainment.
